

Why Healthtech Women?

Healthtech Women is an expanding community of women who are impacting the health industry using technology. Our members enjoy a variety of experiences, establish lifelong connections, and learn directly from our strong community who are impacting this industry. We are personally invested in the professional success and satisfaction of our members; and so we create opportunities to help our members boost their careers, grow their networks, and broaden their knowledge and skillset.

Healthtech Women has seven (6) US hubs and is present in two (2) Global Locations. Our events range from seminars, networking events, and workshops to happy hours and volunteering events. We also host semi-annual conferences that bring together our international community.

As a team, we are dedicated to providing women the resources and platform needed for promoting unity and collaboration for global impact. Aside from events, our team works to showcase the unique ideas and talents of our members at each local hub and introduce them to valuable connections.

We deeply believe that uniting passionate women with unique experiences and interests will be a catalyst for innovation in healthcare. When women support women, amazing things happen.

Who are Healthtech Women members?

We are over 20,000 community members spread across the globe. Our members are diverse in their interests, professions, experiences, backgrounds and motivations across the health ecosystem. Our passion is that of intellectual curiosity and a sincere motivation to support the women who want to impact healthcare.

What cities are we in?

United States

San Francisco. Los Angeles. New York. Nashville. Charlotte. Chicago.

Japan

Tokyo.

Healthtech Women has launched seven hubs to date, and we will be expanding both nationally and internationally over the coming years. Each Healthtech Women member has access to all events and teams, regardless of their primary location.
